

Design-Design

Design-Design is the more theoretical side of Simcoemedia work. The blog has been created to log and discuss design experiences and associated topics with the aim of helping other freelance designers, academics and business owners. Subjects range from the preparation for project meetings to the use of new products such as 3D cameras and their use in low budget projects. <http://www.design-design.co.uk>

Simcoemedia Design Consultancy portfolio is the main focus of Simcoemedia's output. Its core work is design and production of multimedia products such as websites, photography and printed material. This website demonstrates a variety of design skills through project images, descriptions and quotes from clients across the UK and abroad. <http://www.simcoe.co.uk>

Linked in.

Summary of work history and a resume for download. Tweets and RSS feeds are linked to my Linked In account so I tends to add minimal content to this. <http://linkd.in/u1wBSa>

YouTube

Simcoemedia's YouTube Channel contains a portfolio of short films, documentaries and product design demonstrations recorded and edited by Pete Simcoe. <http://youtube.com/simcoemedia>

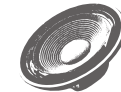

Simcoemedia Google + page with updated portfolio items. Video planned for future. <http://bit.ly/v0sbL6>

Simcoemedia iStockphoto.com portfolio containing images from travels around the world as well as local images from Chester, the historic city where Simcoemedia's office is based. As well as images, there are also stock audio files for purchase. <http://istockphoto.to/uDb5eE>

AudioJungle portfolio of soundtrack type music files for use in video or radio <http://bit.ly/plmSt8>

Audio-Echo is an informal blog containing examples of original soundtracks for purchase and download on a personal license basis. The site also features film reviews. <http://www.audio-echo.co.uk>

Simcoemedia's Twitter page is dedicated to design related tweets. Although there is a little license for posting tweets aimed at amusing or provoking thought, they will always be in some way related to design and something I would be happy to show a client. <http://twitter.com/simcoemedia>

facebook

Directly connected to the Twitter feed and features informal chat with friends. Mostly design related. <http://on.fb.me/sG3MSv>

